No. 15779-44, dated Simla, the 12th October 1915.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

BY the Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry No. 7148-45, dated the 12th October 1910, an addition was made to the form of agreement for the engagement of lascars, requiring masters of foreign vessels to obtain the certificate of the British Consular Officer to changes in the crew occurring at foreign ports. No similar provision, however, exists with respect to changes in crews occurring at ports in British Colonies and Possessions. The Government of India consider it important that such provision should be made in order to afford Shipping Masters in India authentic information when paying off crews. The Secretary of State for India has concurred in the proposal and has taken action to secure that similar procedure should be adopted also in the United Kingdom.

2. The Governor General in Council is therefore pleased to direct, under section 27 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1883 (V of 1883), that the following additional stipulation be substituted for the last additional stipulation printed at the foot of page 1 of the form of agreement for lascars:

I hereby further agree that, in case before arrival at, or after arrival at, and before departure from, any port of call I shall make any new engagement or there shall occur any discharge, transfer, leaving behind, desertion, or death of any lascar or other native seaman under this agreement I will (if the same shall not have been previously reported) report such engagement, discharge, transfer, leaving behind, desertion, or death to the officer next hereinafter mentioned, that is to say, in the case of a foreign port the British Consular Officer at such port, and in the case of a port in the United Kingdom or in any British Dominion, Colony, or Possession, the Lascar Transfer Officer, or if there is no such officer the Superintendent, or in the absence of a Superintendent, the Chief Customs Officer thereat, and in the case of a port in a British Protectorate or a port in the Malay States, North Borneo, or Sarawak, the Chief Customs or Port Officer thereat, and in the case of a new engagement will attend before such officer and (by endorsement hereon or addition hereto, or otherwise as may be convenient) in his presence enter into an agreement with the lascar or other native seaman engaged in the same form as this agreement, and in the case of a discharge, transfer, leaving behind, desertion, or death will present this agreement to such officer for the purpose of his certifying by a memorandum thereon that such discharge, transfer, leaving behind, desertion, or death has taken place, and in the case of a discharge, transfer, or leaving behind that the same was authorised or unavoidable, and will pay to such officer in respect thereof the fee or fees prescribed in this behalf by the Consular Fees (Amendment) Order in Council, 1910, or by or in pursuance of any other order or law for the time being in force, or if the certifying officer is not a Consular Officer the same fee or fees (unless it is otherwise provided by any rule or enactment locally in force) as would have been payable under such Order or law as the case may be if he had been such an officer.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, Marine Department, and to the Government of Burma, Commerce Department (with reference to the correspondence ending with the letter from that Government No. 375, dated the 20th May 1913.

CLAUSE 4 of the Rules published in this department notification dated the 9th December 1892 regarding oral examination in the knowledge of English idiom and pronunciation, prescribed in the case of teachers of English and those who teach through the medium of English in secondary schools, should be read as follows :—

Inspectors of Schools, Principals and Professors of Colleges affiliated to the Calcutta University, and Principals of Training Colleges are authorised to hold this examination, if they are European British subjects as defined in the Criminal Procedure Code, and have been entirely educated in the British Isles or an English-speaking British Colony. Letter from the Government of India, Department of Education, No. 911, dated the 20th May 1915.

WITH the approval of the Government of India conveyed in their letter No. 248, dated the 13th June 1873, the Government of Bengal drew up and published in Government Resolution, dated the 29th July 1873, a scheme for the utilisation of that portion of the Mohsin Endowment which had been appropriated for the development of education. Under this scheme the following objects of expenditure were prescribed :—

(1) The maintenance of the staff and boarding-houses of the Dacca, Hooghly, Chittagong and Rajshahi Madrasas.
(2) Scholarships for Muhammadans.
(3) The payment of a share of the cost of Arabic and Persian teachers in nine zilla schools.
(4) The payment of two-thirds of the tuition fees of Madrasa boys attending certain schools and law classes.

In 1895, the income of the Mohsin Fund suddenly decreased owing to the reduction of the rates of Government securities from 4 per cent. to 3½ per cent. In order to equalise the receipts and expenditure Government transferred to Provincial Revenues the charges on account of the salaries of Arabic and Persian teachers in the zilla schools and increased the fees payable by Muhammadan students from a third to one-half of the full fees. Since then the expenditure on Muhammadan education debitable to the Mohsin Fund has outgrown the funds available, and it is still rapidly increasing. The Governor in Council has accordingly decided with the approval of the Government of India to modify further the scheme drawn up in 1873. In order to attain the object in view the cost of all Government Madrasas and of grants-in-aid to non-Government Madrasas will hence-forward be charged to Provincial Revenues, and the amount so set free from the Mohsin Fund will be utilised for the award of small stipends to deserving Muhammadan students, many of whom are unable owing to their poverty to follow a collegiate course of instruction.

2. From the sum available the Governor in Council has decided to establish—

(1) 81 stipends for Muhammadan students reading in the Arts Colleges in the province, each tenable for two years, of which 51 will be awarded on the result of the Matriculation Examination and 30 on the results of the I.A. and I.Sc. Examinations of the Calcutta University, except two stipends of Rs. 10 each reserved for Shia students, the remaining 79 stipends will be of the value of Rs. 5 per mensem.
(2) Four stipends of Rs. 10 each, tenable for two years in the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, two of which will be awarded annually on the result of the I.Sc. Examination and the other two on the result of the Intermediate Examination in Engineering.
(3) Six stipends of Rs. 15 each, tenable in the Medical College, Calcutta, two of which, tenable for one year only, will be awarded on the result of the I.A. and I.Sc. Examinations of the Calcutta University, and of the remaining four, two tenable for two years each, will be awarded annually on the result of the Preliminary M.B. Examination, and the remaining two, tenable for three years each, will be awarded on the result of the First M.B. Examination.
(4) Thirty-three stipends of Rs. 5 each, tenable for two years, for students reading in the Madrasas, of which eighteen will be awarded on the result of the examination at the end of the second year Senior Course. Detailed information about these stipends is given in the appendix to this Resolution. It will be observed that when full effect is given to the scheme, the number of stipendiaries out of the Mohsin Fund, will be 162 in Arts Colleges, 8 in the Civil Engineering College, 12 in the Medical College and 66 in Madrasas, the total number being 248.

His Excellency in Council hopes that these stipends, combined with the existing special scholarships for Muhammadans, will bring substantial relief to the poorer classes of Muhammadan students in the Presidency.

3. The conditions to be attached to these stipends are as follows :—

(1) Only poor students, who are unable to provide for the expenses of their education, will be eligible for the stipends.

(2) As between those eligible on the ground of poverty, the stipends will be awarded in consideration of merit among those passing their examinations in the First or Second Division.

(3) Shia students and students who are bonâ fide residents of the town of Hooghly will be entitled in addition to their special stipends to receive any other stipend for which they may be eligible.

(4) Except medical and engineering students no one who holds any Government or other sholarships of the aggregate value of more than Rs. 10 will be entitled to hold any of the stipends.

(5) The stipends will be awarded by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, as soon as the results of the examinations on which they are dependent are published. Medical and engineering stipends will be awarded by the Director of Public Instruction on the recommendation of the Principals of those colleges. The Director of Public Instruction will frame such additional rules as may be necessary to give effect to the intentions of Government in the matter.

(6) The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, will distribute the Madrasa stipends between the different madrasas in the province in such proportion as he may think fit.

(7) The Director of Public Instruction will be competent to vary the distribution of scholarships among the various divisions from time to time.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and Accountant-General, Bengal, for information and necessary action.

By order of the Governor in Council,

K. C. DE,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 129Marine.—The following revised scheme of storm-warning signals as finally approved by the Government of India, is published for general information, so far as it relates to ports in the Bay of Bengal situated in the Presidency of Bengal. The scheme shall come into force with effect from the 1st January 1916.

STORM-WARNING SERVICE.

The Government of India have decided to revise the distribution of meteorological information to ports and shipping. At present information is given by the hoisting of storm-signals, by the exhibition of flags, and by telegrams in code to Port Officers. The meaning of the storm-signals now in use is different at different ports, and the new system is so arranged that the meaning of any given signal will be the same throughout the Indian seas, the only difference between different ports being that a larger or smaller number of signals will be in use. The flag-signals will be replaced by signals giving the locality of disturbances, and the sending of eight-word-code telegrams to Port Officers will be discontinued. The scheme now to be brought into use may be shortly described as—

(a) a general system of eleven signals, two of which will indicate the existence of distant disturbed weather, eight will indicate that local bad weather threatens the port, while the remaining one will indicate that communication with the Meteorological Department has broken down and that in the opinion of the local officer there is danger of bad weather.

(b) a brief system consisting of four only of the above signals. This system will be used at a few ports frequented mainly by small Indian boats engaged in local traffic.

(c) the general system combined with additional daily signals either to indicate that weather is undisturbed or if bad weather exists to show the position of the disturbance. This system will be in daily operation at certain stations in the Bay of Bengal and has been devised to replace the flag-signals at present in use.

The following are the ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal which will come under the different systems :—

General system.	General system with additional signals.
Cox's Bazar.	Chittagong.
Calcutta.	Saugor Island.
Budge-Budge.	Sandheads.
Mud Point.
Diamond Harbour.

I.—GENERAL SYSTEM.

The Meteorological Department will keep Port Officers informed of the latest information with respect to all disturbances, and ships' officers should apply to them for information to supplement the storm-signals.

DISTANT SIGNALS

to indicate danger to ships after they have left the harbour.

Day. Night.

I. CAUTIONARY.—There is a region of squally weather in which a storm may be forming.

NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted at ports situated with reference to the disturbed weather such that a ship leaving the port might run into danger during its voyage.

II. WARNING.—A storm has formed.

NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted when there is no immediate danger of the port itself being affected, but ships leaving the port might run into the storm.

LOCAL SIGNALS

to indicate that the port and ships in it are threatened.

Day. Night.

III. CAUTIONARY.—The port is threatened by squally weather.

IV. WARNING.—The port is threatened by a storm but it does not appear that the danger is as yet sufficiently great to justify extreme measures of precaution.

NOTE.—The existence of a storm can often be determined before its direction of motion can be fixed. In this case all those ports which the storm could possibly strike will be warned by this signal

V. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).

VI. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).

	Day.	Night.
VII. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
VIII. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
IX. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).
X. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
XI. FAILURE OF COMMUNICATIONS.—Communication with the meteorological head-quarters has broken down and the local officer considers that there is danger of bad weather.

II.—BRIEF SYSTEM

for use at certain small ports.

In the brief system only the four following signals will be hoisted, but the Port Officers will be kept informed of the progress of bad weather for the general information of shipping:—

Signal No. III—Cautionary
Signal No. IV—Warning
Signal No. VII—Danger
Signal No. X—Great danger
} Meaning day and night signals as in the General system.

N.B.—Under this system there are no ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal.

III.—ADDITIONAL DAILY SIGNALS FOR THE BAY OF BENGAL.

In order to give daily information to a port regarding weather in the Bay it is necessary to provide for the following cases:—

(a) if no disturbance exists in the Bay of Bengal the fact will be indicated by hoisting a ball,

(b) if the port itself is threatened the appropriate local signal of the "general system" will be hoisted,

(c) if there be an area of squally weather or a storm that does not threaten the port the "distant cautionary" or "distant warning" of the "general system" will be hoisted; and additional signs will be hoisted under these to indicate the position of the disturbance in the Bay. For this purpose the Bay has been divided into six sections and the following shapes have been allotted to each of the divisions :—

Division	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Signal

Thus if there is squally weather in section V of the Bay the signal

would be hoisted at the various ports; and if a storm has formed in section II the signal would be hoisted at all ports which were not directly threatened; as already stated the ports threatened would hoist one or other of the local signals. The Meteorological Department will endeavour to keep the number of locality signals on each hoist as few as possible and generally only the number of the section in which the centre of the storm is situated will be given. If however the centre of the storm is near the boundary of a division two locality signals will be given, the first indicating the division in which the centre is supposed to be and the second the neighbouring division near to which it is. In the event of a storm centre being near to the angles where three divisions meet, three locality signals will be hoisted. The first will give the division in which the storm is supposed to be, the second the nearest adjoining division and the third the remaining division.

Examples—

Storm centre.	Locality signals.
Lat. 16 N Long. 86 E	II.
Lat. 16 N Long. 88 E	II and III.
Lat. 16 N Long. 89 E	III and II.
Lat. 18 N Long. 87½ E	II, I and III.
Lat. 19 N Long. 89½ E	I, III and II.

 The sections may be defined as follows :—

I.—Contains the area north of lat. 18½°;

II.—Lies south of I; it is bounded on the south by lat. 13° and to the east by long. 88½°;

III.—Lies south of I and east of II; it is bounded to the south by lat. 13° and to the east by a line from the point 13° N. 93° E. to Diamond Island together with the Arakan coast thence up to 18½° N.;

IV.—Lies south of II and west of 86°;

V.—Lies east of IV, south of II, III and west of 93°;

VI.—Lies east of III, IV and represents the Andaman Sea.

A map illustrating these sections accompanies the Code of Storm-warning Signals, published by the Government of India which will be had on application to the Port Officers, Calcutta or Chittagong.

2. After section 87 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, the following section shall be inserted, namely :— XVI of 1908.

"87A. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the registration of a document registered before or after the commencement of this Act, shall not be deemed to be invalid by reason only of the fact that the document was presented for registration by an agent not duly authorised by a power-of-attorney executed and attested or authenticated under the provisions of any enactment in force.

Registration of document not to be deemed invalid by reason of defect in presentation.

(2) Where any claim has been wholly or in part dismissed, rejected or withdrawn after the 25th day of November, 1914, and before the commencement of the Indian Registration (Amendment) Act, 1915, in a Court of first instance or of revision or of appeal, by reason only of the fact that a document was presented for registration under any enactment in force by an agent not duly authorised by power-of-attorney under the provisions of such enactment, the case may, if the dismissal, rejection or withdrawal has had the effect of invalidating, in whole or in part, the said document as between persons claiming or liable thereunder, be restored on review in the manner provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for review of judgments, on application in writing made within six months from the commencement of the said Act; and on such restoration the provisions of sub-section (1) shall apply to the said document."

Restoration of claims dismissed, rejected or withdrawn by reason of defect in presentation of a document for registration. [Cf. s. 31(2) of Act IX of 1908.]

V of 1908.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE recent decision of their Lordships of the Privy Council in Jambu Prasad v. Aftab Ali Khan (I.L.R., 37 All., February 1915, p. 49) threatens to affect the validity of the registration of many documents, which were accepted, when presented, by the registering officer from the person or persons presenting the same and duly registered. In the case of well-to-do landlords, money-lenders, men of business and pardanashin ladies, it has been a common practice to send agents, munibs, gumashtas, servants or relations to the registration office with the executant to pay the money payable before the registering officer, and to see that the document was duly registered. In some cases, such agents may possess a power-of-attorney of the kind required by section 33 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, but in the large majority of instances, where the creditor, trader or lady concerned is not a landed proprietor, the most suitable man in the service or family circle available at the time, who can safely be entrusted with the money, is generally selected, and though the executant usually goes with him to the registration office, care is not always taken that the presentation is effected by the executant, or by an agent authorised by a power-of-attorney executed and authenticated in the manner provided by the Indian Registration Act. There may also be cases where the agent possesses a power-of-attorney from one of the persons claiming under a document, but not from all. The fact that the mere physical act of handing over the document to the Registrar was performed by a relative or agent not holding a proper power-of-attorney ought not, however, to stand in the way of the validity of registration, if the document be otherwise duly registered. The matter has been the subject of various decisions, some of which will be found reported in Mohendra Nath v. Samu Bibi (7 C.W.N., page 229), Ishriprasad v. Baijnath (3 A.L.J. 743), Nathumal v. Abdul Wahid Shah (I.L.R., 34 All. 355), Atma Ram v. Ugrasen (I.L.R., 35 All. 134), Karta Kishen v. Harnam Chand (I.L.R., 35 All. 72), Watayti Begum v. Fazal Hussain Khan (9 All. L. J. 148), and Atal Beharilal v. Hemenchal Singh (6 Oudh Cases 9) ; and in a case in which a document was presented for registration by an agent who held a power-of-attorney, after the death of his principal, it was ruled by their Lordships of the Privy Council that section 87 of the Registration Act did not cure the defect (Majib-un-nissa v. Abdul Rajim, I.L.R., 23 All. 233). The recent decision of their Lordships of the Privy Council, however, goes further, and renders registration invalid in respect of all documents presented for registration by the agent of a party claiming under a document, if the agent was not authorised in the manner provided by section 33 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, though he may have been accompanied at the time of presentation by the executant. The consequences of such a decision will, it is apprehended, be serious and far-reaching, and there is urgent need, therefore, for meeting or removing the difficulty by legislation. The Bill proposes to provide a remedy by adding a sub-section to section 87 of the Act, to ensure that the mere fact that the person who presented a document for registration was not duly authorised by a power-of-attorney executed and authenticated in manner mentioned in section 33 of the Act, shall not invalidate the registration of the document if it was otherwise duly registered.

The Bill proposes to give retrospective effect to the amendment in order to prevent or obviate miscarriages of justice.

CALCUTTA, THE 20TH NOVEMBER 1915.

RESOLUTION—No. 2617M.

READ—

The Reports on the operations of the Calcutta Improvement Trust for the three years 1912-13, 1913-14 and 1914-15.

Creation of the Trust.—An Act was passed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council in 1911, and came into force on the 2nd January 1912, to provide for the improvement and expansion of Calcutta by opening up congested areas, laying out or altering streets, providing open spaces for purposes of ventilation or recreation, demolishing or constructing buildings, acquiring land for the said purposes and for the re-housing of persons of the poorer and working classes displaced by the execution of improvement schemes. A Board called "The Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta," consisting of 11 Trustees, was created for carrying out the duties specified above. Of the 11 Trustees, 4 are members of the Calcutta Corporation, 5, including the Chairman of the Board, are appointed by Government, and the remaining 2 are elected by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce. Ordinarily the term of office of a Trustee is limited to three years.

2. Constitution of the Board of Trustees.—On the 31st March 1915 the Board was constituted as follows :—

The Hon'ble Mr. C. H. Bompas, I.C.S., Chairman.
The Hon'ble Mr. C. F. Payne, I.C.S., Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, ex-officio.
The Hon'ble Raja Reshee Case Law, C.I.E., elected by the Corporation.
The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, elected by the Ward Commissioners.
Dr. Charles Banks, elected by the Commissioners appointed under section 8 (2) of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899.
Mr. W. K. Dods, elected by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce.
The Hon'ble Rai Sitanath Ray Bahadur, elected by the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.

Sir R. N. Mukharji, K.C.I.E, ...	...	Appointed by the Local Government.
The Hon'ble Mr. F. H. Stewart, C.I.E.	...
The Hon'ble Mr. H. J. Hilary ...	...
Mr. R. Anderson	...

Except for a month in the year 1912, and for the period from the 29th August 1913 to the 1st January 1914, when Mr. R. G. D. Thomas and the Hon'ble Mr. B. K. Finnimore officiated respectively as Chairman, the Hon'ble Mr. C. H. Bompas has held the office of the Chairman of the Board from the beginning of the operations of the Trust. His three years' term of office having expired on the 2nd January 1915, he was reappointed for a further period of two years.

3. Meetings.—During the three years the Board held 134 ordinary meetings and 3 special meetings. Besides, various committees composed of the Trustees and co-opted members were appointed by the Board to hear objections to improvement schemes undertaken by the Board and to consider various other questions.

4. Schemes considered by the Board.—During the period ending 31st March 1915, 17 improvement schemes were framed and published by the Board. A brief description of them is given below.

Scheme No. I (Surti Bagan).—This is a general improvement scheme for the construction of 1,350 yards of road, 40 to 45 feet wide (estimated net cost Rs. 20,08,000). It covers an area of 14·4 acres and involves the acquisition of 270 holdings. At the close of the year 1914-15, 263 holdings with an area of 12·11 acres had been acquired. Engineering works had been commenced, and gas, sewerage and water-pipes had been laid in Zakaria Road.

Schemes Nos. IA and IB.—These are subsidiary to general improvement scheme No. I. Scheme IA (estimated net cost Rs. 3,86,000) provides for a roadway 70 yards long and 40 feet wide connecting the Tarachand Dutt Street with Harrison Road. Scheme IB (estimated cost Rs. 6,97,000) is for a roadway 110 yards long and 40 feet wide connecting the new east and west road to the south of Scheme No. 1 with Colootolla Street. Both the schemes had been sanctioned by Government, but no land was acquired during the period.

Scheme No. II (Shambazar Bridge Road).—This is a street scheme designed to improve the approaches to the north of Calcutta (estimated net cost Rs. 7,36,000). It involves the acquisition of 86 holdings with an area of 22 acres. Except a few properties not yet acquired, almost all the ground had been cleared and the low-lying land raised.

Scheme No. IIA.—A street scheme providing for the widening of a part of Cornwallis Street, to be carried out in connection with Scheme No. II (estimated net cost Rs. 75,000). Out of 2·1 acres of land with 19 holdings notified for acquisition only two holdings had been acquired.

Scheme No. III.—A scheme for improving the sanitary conditions of the area in proximity to the site selected for rehousing scheme No. 1 in Wards Institution Lane (estimated net cost Rs. 3,34,000). It provides for the acquisition of 22 holdings with an area of 5 acres. Twelve holdings had been acquired and demolished, and tank-filling work was completed.

Scheme No. IV.—This is a street scheme for the widening of the first mile of Russa Road, between Elgin Road and Hazra Road (estimated net cost Rs. 12,20,000). The area covered by the scheme is 31 acres, of which 8·74 acres with 134 holdings had been acquired. Demolition of the acquired properties was well in hand.

Scheme No. IVA.—This scheme provides for the widening of the Russa Road and the development of an area on each side of it between Hazra Road and the Eastern Bengal State Railway bridge. The estimate of the gross cost of the land is Rs. 32½ lakhs and the estimated cost of engineering works is Rs. 16 lakhs. Objections were received in regard to the acquisition of 325 holdings. The Board appointed a committee to consider these objections, and the committee submitted its report after the close of the year 1914-15. The scheme is now under the consideration of Government.

Scheme No. V.—This is a street scheme to improve an area of 23·4 acres in the suburb of Bhowanipore. The cost of acquiring land is estimated at Rs. 52,80,000. The land acquisition notification was issued at the close of the year 1914-15. but no land was actually acquired during the year.

Scheme No. VI.—This supersedes the original scheme to provide a new main thoroughfare from the north-east corner of Dalhousie Square meeting Harrison Road close to the Howrah Bridge. Under the revised scheme the proposed road follows a regular curve, and, instead of coalescing with Clive Street, is carried into the Strand Road. The road will give access to valuable building sites which are at present approached by narrow lanes. The scheme also contemplates the widening of Old Chinabazar south of Canning Street. The estimated cost of the scheme is Rs. 75 lakhs. The area of the property to be acquired is 34·7 acres. Notices were issued under section 45 of the Calcutta Improvement Act and a committee was appointed to hear objections.

Scheme No. VII.—This scheme provides for a Central Avenue from Beadon Street to Machuabazar Street between Chitpur Road and Cornwallis Street and for a spur running south-west from the Central Avenue to Upper Chitpur Road. The total area included is 37·67 acres and the estimated cost of the land and engineering works is about Rs. 25 lakhs. Notices were issued inviting objections to the acquisition of land, and a committee was appointed to hear objections.

Scheme No. VIIA.—This scheme contemplates the widening of Halliday Street forming a continuation of the Central Avenue proposed in Scheme VII from Machuabazar Street to Colootolla Street. The estimated cost of land and engineering works is Rs. 4,36,000. The Committee appointed to consider the scheme dealt with the objections received in connection with this scheme.

Scheme No. VIIB.—The object of the scheme is to continue the Central Avenue from Colootolla Street to Bowbazar Street at an estimated cost of Rs. 9,95,000. The objections received were considered by a committee appointed for the purpose.

Scheme No. VIIC.—This scheme provides for an east and west diagonal road running between Scheme No. VII (Central Avenue) and Maniktala. The estimated cost of land and engineering works is Rs. 13,68,000. The scheme was published during the latter part of the year 1914-15, but further proceedings were held in abeyance pending the consideration of the proposal that the diagonal road to Maniktala should start from Mirbohar Ghat Street.

Scheme No. VIII.—The scheme provides for the extension of Park Street across Lower Circular Road to meet the Eastern Bengal State Railway line in the neighbourhood of Bridge No. 4 and for laying out a park 29 acres in area. The cost of land acquisition and engineering works is estimated at Rs. 16,39,000. The scheme was published for criticism after the close of the year 1914-15.

Scheme No. IX.—This is a small scheme for the widening of Old Post Office Street at premises Nos. 1, 2 and 3, the cost of which is estimated at Rs. 81,000. Two objections were received. It has been sanctioned by Government since the close of the year 1914-15.

Dalhousie Square Improvement Scheme.—The object of the scheme is to relieve congestion of traffic in part of the roadway round Dalhousie Square. No private land is to be acquired, but it was proposed to throw strips of land from the Square into the roadway. The estimated cost is Rs. 1,89,000. The scheme was submitted to Government after the close of the year.

5. Squares.—Besides the schemes described above, the Board considered the question of providing squares in congested areas. Applications had been received from time to time from the Calcutta Corporation for opening out squares in various parts of Calcutta. The Board decided that they were prepared to allot Rs. 10 lakhs for the purpose and desired the advice of the Corporation as to the quarters in which this sum could best be spent. Towards the close of the year 1914-15 the Corporation submitted recommendations in favour of the construction of three squares in Districts Nos. I, II and III and the improvement of a triangular area at the junction of Ripon Street and Wellesley Street. The recommendations are under the consideration of the Board.

6. Town-planning Exhibition.—In May 1914 the Government of Madras submitted to this Government a proposal to invite Professor Geddes of Edinburgh to visit India during the cold weather of 1914 to deliver a series of lectures on town-planning illustrated by his extensive exhibits bearing on the subject. This Government agreed to share the expense of the visit with the Governments of Madras and Bombay, and the Improvement Trust agreed to contribute one-half of the expenditure to be incurred in Bengal. Unfortunately the ship conveying the exhibits was sunk by the Emden, and the Professor's programme had to be modified. It has been arranged that the Professor will deliver his lectures in Calcutta in the cold weather of 1915.

7. Finance.—Out of the lump grant of Rs. 50 lakhs sanctioned by the Government of India for the Calcutta Improvement Schemes, Rs. 40 lakhs were paid to the Board during the three years ending 31st March 1915. Other receipts on the Capital account were from sales of land, buildings, moveable properties, etc., which amounted to Rs. 3 lakhs. The expenditure on Capital account was 52 lakhs, incurred principally on land acquisition and engineering works. The deficit of nearly Rs. 9 lakhs was met from the surplus available from the funds on Revenue account. Total receipts on the Revenue account during the three years under review were Rs. 75 lakhs, of which Rs. 40 lakhs were derived from special taxation (viz., duty on transfer of property, terminal tax and duty on jute) placed at the disposal of the Board. Twenty-three lakhs of rupees were received from the Corporation of Calcutta and Rs. 6 lakhs from Government as recurring contributions. The Board earned about Rs. 4½ lakhs as interest on investments and realized Rs. 1 lakh from rent on properties. The expenditure on Revenue account was about Rs. 8 lakhs against total receipts of Rs. 75 lakhs, leaving a surplus of about Rs. 67 lakhs, at the close of the year 1914-15.

8. Legal matters.—One of the most important matters which occupied the attention of the Board was the question of the extension of the Calcutta Improvement Act to areas in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. The first action in this direction was the extension of section 167 in connection with the survey of the suburban municipalities of Tollygunj, Maniktalla, South Suburban and Cossipore-Chitpur as a preliminary to the execution of improvement schemes in those areas for the expansion of Calcutta. The Board subsequently applied to Government for a general extension of the Act to the areas surveyed, but it was found that such extension was ultra vires.

Government were, however, advised that the Act could be extended to the suburban municipalities to carry out such improvement schemes in those areas as were connected with the similar schemes within Calcutta. The matter was still under consideration at the close of the period reviewed.

An amending Act (Bengal Act III of 1915) was passed at the close of the year 1914-15 by the Bengal Legislative Council giving the Board power to lay down projected public streets within the area of Calcutta.

There were pending at the conclusion of the period under review seven suits against the Board bearing on the powers of the Board in connection with street improvement schemes to acquire lands lying outside the actual line of the proposed street.

The Governor in Council desires to express his acknowledgments to the Trustees for the energy and efficiency with which they have organised schemes for the improvement of Calcutta. His Excellency's thanks are conveyed to the Hon'ble Mr. C. H. Bompas for the conspicuous ability and the zeal with which he has performed his duties as Chairman of the Board.

By order of the Governor in Council,

K. C. DE,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

3. Government reserves to itself the right to alter the quantity of opium to be offered for sale in each month. No reduction in the quantities to be sold, however, will be made without three months' previous notice.

4. The following are the conditions of sale. Government reserves to itself the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice, and power is reserved to vary the upset price referred to in condition (ii) at any time without such previous notice :—

(i) The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

(ii) The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 1,800 per chest of uncertified opium and will be sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause (xiii) of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

(iii) The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of Government, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Government may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

(iv) Each lot shall contain five chests.

(v) A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such promissory notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as Government shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 2,000 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,400 per chest, Rs. 500 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 2,400 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,800 per chest, Rs. 600 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

(vi) The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

(vii) The promissory notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

(viii) No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause (v) on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted: Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said promissory note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. (v) and No. (vi).

(ix) The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day after the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as Government shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

(x) Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

(xi) No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

(xii) The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

(xiii) With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 1,800 specified in the second of these conditions.

(xiv) The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of opium not exceeding altogether fifteen lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said fifteen.

(xv) In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

5. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal :—

No. 1—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale.
No. 2—Report of the examination of such opium.

6. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Ghazipur Factory, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal.

7. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Government entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,
Secretary.

The 23rd November 1915.

No. 129Marine.—The following revised scheme of storm-warning signals as finally approved by the Government of India, is published for general information, so far as it relates to ports in the Bay of Bengal situated in the Presidency of Bengal. The scheme shall come into force with effect from the 1st January 1916.

STORM-WARNING SERVICE.

The Government of India have decided to revise the distribution of meteorological information to ports and shipping. At present information is given by the hoisting of storm-signals, by the exhibition of flags, and by telegrams in code to Port Officers. The meaning of the storm-signals now in use is different at different ports, and the new system is so arranged that the meaning of any given signal will be the same throughout the Indian seas, the only difference between different ports being that a larger or smaller number of signals will be in use. The flag-signals will be replaced by signals giving the locality of disturbances, and the sending of eight-word-code telegrams to Port Officers will be discontinued. The scheme now to be brought into use may be shortly described as—

(a) a general system of eleven signals, two of which will indicate the existence of distant disturbed weather, eight will indicate that local bad weather threatens the port, while the remaining one will indicate that communication with the Meteorological Department has broken down and that in the opinion of the local officer there is danger of bad weather.

(b) a brief system consisting of four only of the above signals. This system will be used at a few ports frequented mainly by small Indian boats engaged in local traffic.

(c) the general system combined with additional daily signals either to indicate that weather is undisturbed or if bad weather exists to show the position of the disturbance. This system will be in daily operation at certain stations in the Bay of Bengal and has been devised to replace the flag-signals at present in use.

The following are the ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal which will come under the different systems :—

General system.	General system with additional signals.
Cox's Bazar.	Chittagong.
Calcutta.	Saugor Island.
Budge-Budge.	Sandheads.
Mud Point.
Diamond Harbour.

I.—GENERAL SYSTEM.

The Meteorological Department will keep Port Officers informed of the latest information with respect to all disturbances, and ships' officers should apply to them for information to supplement the storm-signals.

DISTANT SIGNALS

to indicate danger to ships after they have left the harbour.

Day. Night.

I. CAUTIONARY.—There is a region of squally weather in which a storm may be forming.

NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted at ports situated with reference to the disturbed weather such that a ship leaving the port might run into danger during its voyage.

II. WARNING.—A storm has formed.

NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted when there is no immediate danger of the port itself being affected, but ships leaving the port might run into the storm.

LOCAL SIGNALS

to indicate that the port and ships in it are threatened.

Day. Night.

III. CAUTIONARY.—The port is threatened by squally weather.

IV. WARNING.—The port is threatened by a storm but it does not appear that the danger is as yet sufficiently great to justify extreme measures of precaution.

NOTE.—The existence of a storm can often be determined before its direction of motion can be fixed. In this case all those ports which the storm could possibly strike will be warned by this signal

V. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).

VI. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).

	Day.	Night.
VII. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
VIII. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
IX. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).
X. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
XI. FAILURE OF COMMUNICATIONS.—Communication with the meteorological head-quarters has broken down and the local officer considers that there is danger of bad weather.

II.—BRIEF SYSTEM

for use at certain small ports.

In the brief system only the four following signals will be hoisted, but the Port Officers will be kept informed of the progress of bad weather for the general information of shipping:—

Signal No. III—Cautionary
Signal No. IV—Warning
Signal No. VII—Danger
Signal No. X—Great danger
} Meaning day and night signals as in the General system.

N.B.—Under this system there are no ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal.

III.—ADDITIONAL DAILY SIGNALS FOR THE BAY OF BENGAL.

In order to give daily information to a port regarding weather in the Bay it is necessary to provide for the following cases:—

(a) if no disturbance exists in the Bay of Bengal the fact will be indicated by hoisting a ball,

(b) if the port itself is threatened the appropriate local signal of the "general system" will be hoisted,

(c) if there be an area of squally weather or a storm that does not threaten the port the "distant cautionary" or "distant warning" of the "general system" will be hoisted; and additional signs will be hoisted under these to indicate the position of the disturbance in the Bay. For this purpose the Bay has been divided into six sections and the following shapes have been allotted to each of the divisions :—

Division	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Signal

Thus if there is squally weather in section V of the Bay the signal

would be hoisted at the various ports; and if a storm has formed in section II the signal would be hoisted at all ports which were not directly threatened; as already stated the ports threatened would hoist one or other of the local signals. The Meteorological Department will endeavour to keep the number of locality signals on each hoist as few as possible and generally only the number of the section in which the centre of the storm is situated will be given. If however the centre of the storm is near the boundary of a division two locality signals will be given, the first indicating the division in which the centre is supposed to be and the second the neighbouring division near to which it is. In the event of a storm centre being near to the angles where three divisions meet, three locality signals will be hoisted. The first will give the division in which the storm is supposed to be, the second the nearest adjoining division and the third the remaining division.

Examples—

Storm centre.	Locality signals.
Lat. 16 N Long. 86 E	II.
Lat. 16 N Long. 88 E	II and III.
Lat. 16 N Long. 89 E	III and II.
Lat. 18 N Long. 87½ E	II, I and III.
Lat. 19 N Long. 89½ E	I, III and II.

 The sections may be defined as follows :—

I.—Contains the area north of lat. 18½°;

II.—Lies south of I; it is bounded on the south by lat. 13° and to the east by long. 88½°;

III.—Lies south of I and east of II; it is bounded to the south by lat. 13° and to the east by a line from the point 13° N. 93° E to Diamond Island together with the Arakan coast thence up to 18½° N.;

IV.—Lies south of II and west of 86°;

V.—Lies east of IV, south of II, III and west of 93°;

VI.—Lies east of III, IV and represents the Andaman Sea.

A map illustrating these sections accompanies the Code of Storm-warning Signals, published by the Government of India which will be had on application to the Port Officers, Calcutta or Chittagong.

RESOLUTION ON INLAND EMIGRATION UNDER THE ASSAM LABOUR AND EMIGRATION ACT, 1901 (VI OF 1901) DURING THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH JUNE 1915.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

EMIGRATION.

CALCUTTA, THE 29TH NOVEMBER 1915.

RESOLUTION—No. 5045 EMI.

READ—

The Reports on Inland Emigration under the Assam Labour and Emigration Act, 1901 (VI of 1901), for the year ending the 30th June 1915, submitted by the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, and the District Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents of Emigration.

THE most important event of the year under report was the passing of the Assam Labour and Emigration (Amendment) Act (VIII of 1915), the chief objects of the measure being the abolition of the system of recruitment by contractors under Chapter III of Act VI of 1901, and the creation of a representative Board to exercise proper supervision over recruitment by garden sardars so as to prevent the recurrence in new forms of the old abuses connected with other systems of recruitment, and to advise Superintendents of Emigration on applications for local agents' licenses.

2. The system of recruitment by contractors was actually abolished with effect from the 1st July 1915 by a notification, dated the 19th June 1915, issued by the Government of India. The Assam Administration also published a notification by which certain provisions of Act VI of 1901 relating to labour districts, which had, in 1908, been withdrawn from the districts of Cachar, Sylhet, Kamrup and Goalpara, were now withdrawn from the remaining labour districts, the result being the abolition of penal contracts under the Act throughout the tea districts of Assam. In pursuance of the policy of facilitating recruitment of unindentured emigrants by bona fide garden sardars the concessions previously allowed to certain approved associations were extended by this Government to individual employers who may appoint duly licensed local agents in the recruiting districts. Thus emigrants recruited by sardars working under local agents, whether appointed by a recognised association or by an individual, are not required to be produced before a Government registering officer, and the actual control and responsibility for recruitment now devolves upon these local agents. A notification was issued by this Government under section 91 of Act VI of 1901 by which labour contracts were dispensed with in the case of emigrants recruited by certificated garden sardars not accredited to any local agent. Formerly only emigrants recruited by sardars working under the control of approved associations could not be required to enter into labour contracts, but now no emigrant recruited, whether by a sardar working under a local agent, or by a sardar working independently without the control of any local agent, may be required to enter into such a contract.

3. In view of improved facilities for the transit of emigrants, rule 146 of the rules framed by this Government under the Act was amended, and emigrants who have been in the train for less than six hours have no longer to halt at Asansol, Kharagpur and Naihati.

4. The number of emigrants of all classes recruited in Bengal, Madras, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, the Central Provinces and the adjoining Native States, who embarked at Goalundo during the year under review, was 60,215 as against 55,166 in the preceding year. Of this number, which is the largest recorded since the year 1908-09, 2,314 were recruited by licensed contractors and 53,707 by garden sardars of all classes, as compared with 4,785 and 43,043 in the year 1913-14. The increase was marked in all classes of sardari emigrants, but those recruited by contractors and also those alleged to have been recruited in Native States decreased by 51·64 and 42·84 per cent., respectively.

5. Recruiting operations were conducted in this Presidency in the districts of Bankura, Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore and the 24-Parganas only as in previous years. The total number of emigrants registered in these districts under Chapters III and IV of the Act was 390 and 977, respectively, as against 864 and 595 in the preceding year. The number of emigrants recruited by garden sardars working under the control of approved associations was 1,034, or 46 less than in 1913-14. Of these 833 emigrants were recruited in the district of Midnapore, 162 in the district of Bankura, and 39 in the district of Burdwan. In Burdwan and the 24-Parganas no fewer than 977 emigrants were recruited by ordinary garden sardars working under Chapter IV of the Act. This is a high figure when compared with the numbers recruited through sardars under control, and there seems reason to fear that a considerable proportion of these emigrants was obtained through unlicensed intermediaries. Special vigilance will be required in future over the operations of garden sardars who work independently and uncontrolled by any local agent.

6. The number of licensed contractors was the same as in the preceding year, but the number of recruiters licensed on their behalf was 24, or four less than in the year 1913-14. In all 13 local agents' licenses were granted during the year as against the same number in the previous year. The work of these local agents was generally satisfactory. Of the 786 garden sardars employed in this Presidency during the year, 76 worked under the ordinary procedure of Chapter IV of the Act, and 710 under the control of approved associations as against 109 and 980 respectively in the previous year.

7. There were 24 criminal cases connected with recruitment—the same number as in the preceding year, but the number of persons convicted increased from ten in the year 1913-14 to 22 in the year under report.

8. The Magistrate of Burdwan has drawn attention to a practice which has recently come to light by which persons are fraudulently induced to leave their homes by promises of agreeable work on attractive terms at some town or place in Bengal, Chittagong being frequently mentioned. They are then taken by rail to Goalundo or some station on the Assam-Bengal Railway situated in an area not notified under section 3 of Act VI of 1901 and thence despatched to Assam. This evasion of the law has also been brought to the notice of Government by the Assam Labour Board, and, in accordance with suggestions which they have put forward, the Governor in Council is now considering what steps should be taken to put an end to this practice.

9. The depôts, places of accommodation and rest-houses for emigrants were duly inspected and kept in proper sanitary condition, and the arrangements for the transport of emigrants continued to be satisfactory. Among 2,316 emigrants despatched by licensed contractors to Goalundo, there was no death during their journey to that station or afterwards on the steamer voyage, but among the emigrants recruited by garden sardars, of whom 53,781 arrived at Goalundo, ten deaths occurred there, while 17 emigrants are reported to have died en route. Among the 43,608 sardari emigrants who embarked for the Assam Valley districts 29 died during the voyage, but no death occurred during the steamer journey among the 10,099 sardari coolies who embarked for Cachar and Sylhet. Out of 36,592 emigrants of all classes who passed through Chandpur during the year there were only five deaths.

10. Twenty-three emigrants were repatriated during the year from the labour districts through Goalundo, and 57 who refused to embark at Goalundo were also repatriated. In addition four coolies alleged to have been brought from the tea-gardens and left stranded at Goalundo were sent back to their native districts.

11. In connection with the transport of labour to Assam receipts fell to Rs. 4,765 from Rs. 6,203 in the preceding year and expenditure rose to Rs. 29,425 from Rs. 24,211 in 1913-14.

12. The Governor in Council desires to thank the local officers for their assistance in the administration of the Act, and to express his appreciation of the work of Dr. Banks who held the office of Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, throughout the year.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

As compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, the increased imports from the United Kingdom, Port Said, Spain, Aden, Bombay, Massowah and Madras and no imports from Hamburg and Bremen and Salif, are especially noticeable.

8 Durwans.	3 Sweepers.
1 Head Keeper.	1 Chaprasi.
19 Keepers.	1 Carpenter.
3 Bhistis.	2 Cartmen.
1 Cook.	1 Syce.
1 Head Gardener.	1 Scytheman.

Besides these, a number of temporary labourers were engaged during the year.

3. BUILDINGS.

(1) Refreshment Pavilion for Indian Visitors.—The principal work during 1914-15 was the construction of a Refreshment Pavilion for the Indian visitors. Before this, refreshments were served in the open from wooden stalls which afforded no shelter. The want of a suitable refreshment room was keenly felt and it was decided to build a pucca one. A commodious brick-built hall was accordingly erected on the north-west corner of the Garden with all conveniences in the way of sanitation. The floor is laid with marble and suitable accommodation provided for Indian ladies.

The cost of the construction of the hall was met from a generous donation by Babu Ambica Charan Law, a member of the Committee of Management of the Garden.

(2) Jhind House.—Another important work was undertaken during the year. The old Jhind House containing birds was dismantled and a spacious and lofty circular aviary was erected. It is an ideal open-air aviary. The floor was made rat-proof and rockeries and small streams and pools were constructed. Shrubs and creepers were planted and clumps of bamboos and other shady trees improved the aspect of the place. It now contains a large and varied collection of birds and they live here in perfect freedom of movement.

(3) Gubbay House.—The outer enclosures of this house containing apes and baboons were provided with iron railing to prevent the animals being worried by visitors.

(4) Ostrich Enclosure.—The wire-netting round the Ostrich enclosure having perished ,was renewed.

(5) Reptile House.—The iron hand-railing round the water-tank and in front of the exhibition cages could never be kept properly clean owing to corrosion. So it has been covered with brass sheeting, which is a decided improvement.

(6) Big Lake.—The old wire-netting fencing round the lake was renewed by a thicker wire-netting.

(7) Monkey House.—To prevent the food of the small monkeys being eaten by the rats which have become a source of great trouble, the whole place was dug up and the floor laid with brick-on-edge. Earth and sand were spread and shrubs and creepers planted.

The annual repairs could not be carried out on an extensive scale. Only those houses which needed repairs very badly were attended to.

The main drive, roads and Garden paths were repaired as far as possible and kept in good order. The brick-edging of the paths was renewed and a large number of petty works were carried out.

4. VISITORS.

There was a decrease in the attendance of paying visitors during the year, the turnstile records indicating a total of 559,759 visitors, thus showing a decrease of 145,223. This is attributed to the financial uncertainty following the outbreak of the War in Europe. The following is a comparative table of visitors for the last three years:—

Year	Visitors.
1912-13	656,402
1913-14	704,982
1914-15	559,759

Corresponding with the decrease in the number of visitors the gate receipts decreased by Rs. 11,644-10, as will appear from the following statement:—

Year.	Receipts. Rs. A.
1912-13	50,499 0
1913-14	53,913 11
1914-15	42,269 1

The amounts of income and expenditure are summarised in Appendix A.

A large number of children under four years of age and school children attended by their teachers were admitted free. On the day of the Fancy Fair about 6,000 people entered the Garden. Besides these, 65,033 persons visited the Garden on the free days. A list of free days with the number of visitors is given in Appendix C.

5. GARDEN.

The decoration of trees and plants, both flowering and evergreen, maintained its high character. New paths and lawns were laid out and several parts of the Garden occupied by unsightly bushes were cleared and a large number of new shrubs and plants were planted. The display of flowering annuals was very successful. The Superintendent was awarded several first class certificates for some very excellent exhibits at the monthly shows held by the Agri-Horticultural Society of India.

CONCLUSION.

The thanks of the Committee are due to the ladies and gentlemen who have added to the collection of the Garden by their donations, a list of which is given in Appendix D. Thanks are also due to those who kindly offered to present animals to the Garden, but whose offers could not be accepted, either because the particular species of animals was already sufficiently well represented, or owing to the want of accommodation.

The Committee also desire to express their sincere thanks to the Officers Commanding, 16th Rajputs, for allowing their band to play on Sunday evenings without charge.

The thanks of the Committee are also due to Railway and Steamer Companies for conveying animals belonging to the Garden free of charge and in particular to the East Indian Railway Company, Eastern Bengal State Railway, Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company, Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway, Bengal and North-Western Railway Company, Darjeeling and Himalayan Railway, British India Steam Navigation Company, India General Steam Navigation and Railway Companies, and River Steam Navigation Company.

S. C. BERRIDGE,
Honorary Secretary.

F. J. MONAHAN,
President.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING IN THE DECLARATION.

Passengers should fill in the first two columns only. Columns 3 and 4 will be filled in by the Custom House.

Rules for the exemption of passengers' baggage from Customs duty.

1. The bona-fide baggage of a passenger is exempt from duty when it accompanies him, does not form part of the cargo, and is not included in the manifest.

2. Bona-fide baggage shall include wearing apparel and personal effects, provided that the articles are not for sale and are imported for the personal use of the passenger or for the use of members of his family travelling with him, but it shall not include the following articles, on which duty must be paid in all cases :—

(a) Arms, ammunition and all other articles enumerated in Schedule II of the Tariff Import Schedule.

(b) Alcoholic liquor exceeding two quarts, perfumed spirit exceeding one quart, and all other articles enumerated in Schedule III.

(c) Cigars and cigarettes exceeding 100 in number, whether in opened or unopened boxes, and other tobacco exceeding 1 lb. in weight.

(d) Pianos, pianolas, carriages, motor-cars and motor-cycles.

(e) Articles for household use, such as furniture, pictures, carpets, glass, crockery, cutlery, and silver and plated ware, except such articles (other than furniture or carpets) as shall appear to the Customs authorities to be imported in a moderate quantity and to be required for the personal use of the passenger whilst travelling or immediately upon his arrival at his destination.

3. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in rule 1, bona-fide baggage landed at any Customs port within one month before or after the arrival of a passenger in India may, subject to the exceptions specified in rule 2, be passed free at the discretion of the Collector of Customs.

4. When articles, such as firearms, bear any marks, such as maker's name and a number by which they can be identified, such marks should be noted against them. Omission to give details in the case of firearms frequently results in the levy of duty a second time.

5. Articles imported as cargo, i.e., entered in the ship's manifest, should be distinguished from articles imported as baggage in this form. Such articles will not ordinarily be passed free, but they may be so passed at the discretion of the Collector of Customs under rule 3 above.

NOTICE.

1. Duty when charged ad valorem is charged on the value of the goods in India, including cost of importation.

2. On payment of duty, a receipt on a printed form will be immediately granted. All arms should be submitted to the Customs officers for examination to enable them to take the description of the arms and to note other particulars required for future identification.

3. All rifles are now permitted to be imported except those of ·303 and ·450 bores. A British Officer in staff, departmental or regimental employ, or an enrolled member of a Volunteer Corps, or Staff Sergeant or Warrant Officer of British Units of the Army, including Instructors of Volunteer Corps, may import, on payment of duty, one single-barrel ·303 rifle for match-shooting purposes, provided it is sighted to over 1,000 yards, and that a rifle so imported is to form part of the equipment of the Corps to which the importer belongs. For this purpose the owner must at the time of import produce a certificate from his Commanding Officer to the effect that the weapon in question will be brought on to the equipment ledger of his Corps, or in the case of an officer in staff or departmental employ, a certificate from the senior officer or head of the department to which he belongs, to the effect that the weapon will be brought on to the equipment ledger of a Corps in the officer's command or office inventory of stores and will be accounted for in the same manner as other equipment.

4. Any article on which duty is proved to have been previously paid on its importation into India is exempt, provided that not more than three years have elapsed since it was taken out of India, and that it remains the property of the original importer, or of a member of his family. All such articles must be entered in the Declaration and the grounds of exemption stated in the last column. Passengers are strongly advised to keep carefully the receipts for duty paid upon any articles likely to be taken out of India again and re-imported, in order that they may be able to pass them free at the time of such re-importation.

No passenger is entitled to exemption from duty on firearms on the ground that the arms are re-imported and that duty was paid on them on their first importation unless (1) the original receipt for the duty paid is forwarded to the Custom House either at the time of exportation or at the time of re-importation, (2) in the case of arms exported as baggage, particulars of the arms as to description and the name of maker and number on the arms have been forwarded to the Custom House at the port of embarkation for registration and a pass obtained before shipment, and the pass is produced at the time of re-importation for the purpose of checking the arms with the pass, and (3) in the case of arms exported as cargo, particulars of the arms as above have been given in the shipping bill, and information as to the date and the vessel by which exported is furnished at the time of re-importation to allow of the information being checked by a reference to the shipping bill, or if the port of re-importation is not the original port of exportation, a certificate is produced from the Customs authorities at the port of exportation certifying to the correctness of such information.

Exemption from duty cannot be allowed in any case where (1) drawback has been claimed and paid on the exportation of the arms, or where (2) the arms have passed out of the possession of the original importer or a member of his family, or where (3) the arms are imported as merchandise for sale and not for private personal use; or where (4) the arms were exported more than three years before their re-importation.

5. The articles mentioned below, when imported direct by an officer of His Majesty's Regular Forces serving in India for his own use, are passed free, provided that under the regulations and orders for the time being in force the officer is required to maintain the articles in question for the due performance of his military duty :—

Rifles of regulation military pattern, and parts and appurtenances thereof. Ammunition for such rifles.

6. Any person making a false declaration or attempting to pass dutiable goods without payment of duty is liable to a fine of Rs. 500 and confiscation of the property.

7. All Americans and Europeans who are not natural-born or naturalised British subjects should take out licenses for arms and ammunition in their possession when they intend to reside permanently in India.

8. For all information regarding the landing and clearing of baggage, passengers are requested to apply to the Baggage Officers on board or in the Baggage godown at the Custom House.

9. A charge is made on account of wharf rent if baggage is not cleared from the Custom House within 4 days from the date of its receipt.

4. The following are the conditions of sale. Government reserves to itself the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice, and power is reserved to vary the upset price referred to in condition (ii) at any time without such previous notice :—

(i) The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

(ii) The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 1,800 per chest of uncertified opium and will be sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause (xiii) of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

(iii) The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of Government, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Government may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

(iv) Each lot shall contain five chests.

(v) A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such promissory notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as Government shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 2,000 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,400 per chest, Rs. 500 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 2,400 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,800 per chest, Rs. 600 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

(vi) The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or, whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

(vii) The promissory notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

(viii) No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause (v) on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted: Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said promissory note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. (v) and No. (vii).

(ix) The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day after the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as Government shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

(x) Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

(xi) No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

(xii) The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

(xiii) With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 1,800 specified in the second of these conditions.

(xiv) The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of opium not exceeding altogether fifteen lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said fifteen.

(xv) In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

5. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal :—

No. 1—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale.
No. 2—Report of the examination of such opium.

6. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Ghazipur Factory, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal.

7. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Government entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

[Third publication.]

The 23rd November 1915.

No. 129Marine.—The following revised scheme of storm-warning signals as finally approved by the Government of India, is published for general information, so far as it relates to ports in the Bay of Bengal situated in the Presidency of Bengal. The scheme shall come into force with effect from the 1st January 1916.

STORM-WARNING SERVICE.

The Government of India have decided to revise the distribution of meteorological information to ports and shipping. At present information is given by the hoisting of storm-signals, by the exhibition of flags, and by telegrams in code to Port Officers. The meaning of the storm-signals now in use is different at different ports, and the new system is so arranged that the meaning of any given signal will be the same throughout the Indian seas, the only difference between different ports being that a larger or smaller number of signals will be in use. The flag-signals will be replaced by signals giving the locality of disturbances, and the sending of eight-word-code telegrams to Port Officers will be discontinued. The scheme now to be brought into use may be shortly described as—

(a) a general system of eleven signals, two of which will indicate the existence of distant disturbed weather, eight will indicate that local bad weather threatens the port, while the remaining one will indicate that communication with the Meteorological Department has broken down and that in the opinion of the local officer there is danger of bad weather.

(b) a brief system consisting of four only of the above signals. This system will be used at a few ports frequented mainly by small Indian boats engaged in local traffic.

(c) the general system combined with additional daily signals either to indicate that weather is undisturbed or if bad weather exists to show the position of the disturbance. This system will be in daily operation at certain stations in the Bay of Bengal and has been devised to replace the flag-signals at present in use.

The following are the ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal which will come under the different systems :—

General system	General system with additional signals.
Cox's Bazar.	Chittagong.
Calcutta.	Saugor Island.
Budge-Budge.	Sandheads.
Mud Point.
Diamond Harbour.

I.—GENERAL SYSTEM

The Meteorological Department will keep Port Officers informed of the latest information with respect to all disturbances, and ships' officers should apply to them for information to supplement the storm-signals to indicate danger to ships after they have left the harbour.

	Day.	Night.
I. Cautionary.—There is a region of squally weather in which a storm may be forming.
II. Warning.—A storm has formed.

Note.—This signal will be hoisted at ports situated with reference to the disturbed weather such that a ship leaving the port might run into danger during its voyage.

Note.—This signal will be hoisted when there is no immediate danger of the port itself being affected, but ships leaving the port might run into the storm.

Local Signals

to indicate that the port and ships in it are threatened.

	Day.	Night.
III. Cautionary.—The port is threatened by squally weather.
IV. Warning.—The port is threatened by a storm but it does not appear that the danger is as yet sufficiently great to justify extreme measures of precaution.
V. Danger.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
VI. Danger.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).

Note.—The existence of a storm can often be determined before its direction of motion can be fixed. In this case all those ports which the storm could possibly strike will be warned by this signal

	Day.	Night.
VII. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
VIII. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
IX. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).
X. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
XI. FAILURE OF COMMUNICATIONS.—Communication with the meteorological head-quarters has broken down and the local officer considers that there is danger of bad weather.

II.—BRIEF SYSTEM

for use at certain small ports.

In the brief system only the four following signals will be hoisted, but the Port Officers will be kept informed of the progress of bad weather for the general information of shipping:—

Signal No. III—Cautionary
Signal No. IV—Warning
Signal No. VII—Danger
Signal No. X—Great danger
} Meaning day and night signals as in the General system.

N.B.—Under this system there are no ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal.

III.—ADDITIONAL DAILY SIGNALS FOR THE BAY OF BENGAL.

In order to give daily information to a port regarding weather in the Bay it is necessary to provide for the following cases:—

(a) if no disturbance exists in the Bay of Bengal the fact will be indicated by hoisting a ball,

(b) if the port itself is threatened the appropriate local signal of the "general system" will be hoisted,

(c) if there be an area of squally weather or a storm that does not threaten the port the "distant cautionary" or "distant warning" of the "general system" will be hoisted; and additional signs will be hoisted under these to indicate the position of the disturbance in the Bay. For this purpose the Bay has been divided into six sections and the following shapes have been allotted to each of the divisions :—

Division	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Signal

Thus if there is squally weather in section V of the Bay the signal

would be hoisted at the various ports; and if a storm has formed in section II the signal would be hoisted at all ports which were not directly threatened; as already stated the ports threatened would hoist one or other of the local signals. The Meteorological Department will endeavour to keep the number of locality signals on each hoist as few as possible and generally only the number of the section in which the centre of the storm is situated will be given. If however the centre of the storm is near the boundary of a division two locality signals will be given, the first indicating the division in which the centre is supposed to be and the second the neighbouring division near to which it is. In the event of a storm centre being near to the angles where three divisions meet, three locality signals will be hoisted. The first will give the division in which the storm is supposed to be, the second the nearest adjoining division and the third the remaining division.

C. E. LOW,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Army Department, published in the Gazette of India dated the 4th December 1915, are republished for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Delhi, the 3rd December 1915.

The following despatch has been received by the Secretary of State for War from the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief, the British Army in France :—

General Headquarters,
British Army in France,
16th October 1915.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to report the operations of the Forces under my command since the date of those described in my last despatch dated 15th June 1915.

1. Those of the greatest importance took place during the last days of the period under report. Nevertheless, the Army under my command was constantly engaged throughout the whole time in enterprises which, although not securing the same important results, have yet had considerable influence on the course of events.

2. On 2nd June the enemy made a final offensive in the Ypres salient with the object of gaining our trenches and position at Hooge. The attack was most determined and was preceded by a severe bombardment. A gallant defence was made by troops of the 3rd Cavalry Division and 1st Indian Cavalry Division, and our position was maintained throughout.

During the first weeks of June the front of the Second Army was extended to the north as far as the village of Boesinghe.

3. After the conclusion of the Battle of Festubert the troops of the First Army were engaged in several minor operations.

By an attack delivered on the evening of 15th June after a prolonged bombardment the 1st Canadian Brigade obtained possession of the German front line trenches north-east of Givenchy, but were unable to retain them owing to their flanks being too much exposed.

4. On 16th June an attack was carried out by the 5th Corps on the Bellewaarde Ridge, east of Ypres.

The enemy's front line was captured, many of his dead and wounded being found in the trenches.

The troops, pressing forward, gained ground as far east as the Bellewaarde Lake, but found themselves unable to maintain this advanced position. They were, however, successful in securing and consolidating the ground won during the first part of the attack, on a front of a thousand yards, including the advanced portion of the enemy's salient north of the Ypres-Menin Road.

During this action the fire of the artillery was most effective, the prisoners testifying to its destructiveness and accuracy. It also prevented the delivery of counter-attacks, which were paralysed at the outset.

Over two hundred prisoners were taken, besides some machine guns, trench material and gas apparatus.

Holding attacks by the neighbouring 2nd and 6th Corps were successful in helping the main attack, whilst the 36th French Corps co-operated very usefully with artillery fire on Pilkem.

Near Hill 60 the 15th Infantry Brigade made four bombing attacks, gaining and occupying about fifty yards of trench.

On 6th July a small attack was made by the 11th Infantry Brigade on a German salient between Boesinghe and Ypres, which resulted in the capture of a frontage of about 500 yards of trench and a number of prisoners.

In the course of this operation it was necessary to move a gun of the 135th Battery, Royal Field Artillery, into the front line to destroy an enemy sap-head. To reach its position the gun had to be taken over a high canal embankment, rafted over the canal under fire, pulled up a bank with a slope of nearly 45 degrees, and then dragged over three trenches and a sky line to its position seventy yards from the German lines. This was carried out without loss.

This incident is of minor importance in itself, but I quote it as an example of the daily difficulties which officers and men in the trenches are constantly called upon to overcome, and of the spirit of initiative and resource which is so marked a feature amongst them.

From the 10th to the 12th July the enemy made attempts, after heavy shelling, to recapture the lost portion of their line; but our artillery, assisted by that of the French on our left, prevented any serious assault from being delivered. Minor attacks were constant, but were easily repulsed by the garrison of our trenches.

On 19th July an enemy's redoubt at the western end of the Hooge defences was successfully mined and destroyed, and a small portion of the enemy's trenches was captured.

5. Since my last despatch a new device has been adopted by the enemy for driving burning liquid into our trenches with a strong jet.

Thus supported, an attack was made on the trenches of the Second Army at Hooge, on the Menin Road, early on 30th July. Most of the infantry occupying these trenches were driven back, but their retirement was due far more to the surprise and temporary confusion caused by the burning liquid than to the actual damage inflicted.

Gallant endeavours were made by repeated counter-attacks to recapture the lost section of trenches. These, however, proving unsuccessful and costly, a new line of trenches was consolidated a short distance further back.

Attacks made by the enemy at the same time west of Bellewaarde Lake were repulsed.

On 9th August these losses were brilliantly regained, owing to a successful attack carried out by the 6th Division. This attack was very well executed and resulted in the racapture, with small casualties, not only of the whole of the lost trenches, but, in addition, of four hundred yards of German trench north of the Menin Road.

At the end of this engagement it was estimated that between four and five hundred German dead were lying on the battlefield.

Valuable help was rendered by two batteries of French artillery lent by General Hely d'Oissel, commanding 36th French Corps.

6. From the conclusion of the abovementioned operations until the last week in September there was relative quiet along the whole of the British line, except at those points where the normal conditions of existence comprised occasional shelling or constant mine and bomb warfare. In these trying forms of encounter all ranks have constantly shown the greatest enterprise and courage, and have consistently maintained the upper hand.

The close accord and co-operation which has always existed between the Commander-in-Chief of our Allies and myself, has been maintained, and I have had constant meetings with General Joffre, who has kept me informed of his views and intentions, and explained the successive methods by which he hopes to attain his ultimate object.

After full discussion of the military situation a decision was arrived at for joint action, in which I acquiesced.

It was arranged that we should make a combined attack from certain points of the Allied line during the last week in September.

The reinforcements I have received enabled me to comply with several requests which General Joffre has made that I should take over additional portions of the French line.

7. In fulfilment of the rôle assigned to it in these operations the Army under my command attacked the enemy on the morning of the 25th September.

The main attack was delivered by the 1st and 4th Corps between the La Bassée Canal on the north and a point of the enemy's line opposite the village of Grenay on the south.

At the same time a secondary attack, designed with the object of distracting the enemy's attention and holding his troops to their ground, was made by the 5th Corps on Bellewaarde Farm, situated to the east of Ypres. Subsidiary attacks with similar objects were delivered by the 3rd and Indian Corps north of the La Bassée Canal and along the whole front of the Second Army.

The object of the secondary attack by the 5th Corps was most effectively achieved, for not only was the enemy contained on that front, but we have reason to belive that reserves were hurried toward that point of the line.

The attack was made at daybreak by the 3rd and 14th Divisions, and at first the greater part of the enemy's front line was taken; but, owing to the powerful artillery fire concentrated against them, the troops were unable to retain the ground, and had to return to their original trenches toward nightfall. The 5th Corps succeeded, however, in capturing two officers and 138 other prisoners.

Similar demonstrations with equally good results were made along the whole front of the Second Army.

With the same object in view, those units of the First Army occupying the line north of the Bethune-La Bassée Canal were detailed to carry out some minor operations.

Portions of the 1st Corps assaulted the enemy's trenches at Givenchy. The Indian Corps attacked the Moulin du Peétre; while the 3rd Corps was directed against the trenches at Le Bridoux.

These attacks started at daybreak and were at first successful all along the line. Later in the day the enemy brought up strong reserves, and after hard fighting and variable fortunes the troops engaged in this part of the line reoccupied their original trenches at nightfall. They succeeded admirably, however, in fulfilling the rôle allotted to them, and in holding large numbers of the enemy away from the main attack.

The 8th Division of the 3rd Corps and the Meerut Division of the Indian Corps were principally engaged in this part of the line.

On the front of the Third Army subsidiary operations of a similar nature were successfully carried out.

The Wing of the Royal Flying Corps attached to this Army performed valuable work by undertaking distant flights behind the enemy's lines and by successfully blowing up railways, wrecking trains and damaging stations on his line of communication by means of bomb attacks.

Valuable assistance was rendered by Vice-Admiral Bacon and a squadron of His Majesty's ships operating off Zeebrugge and Ostend.

8. The general plan of the main attack on the 25th September was as follows :—

In co-operation with an offensive movement by the 10th French Army on our right, the 1st and 4th Corps were to attack the enemy from a point opposite the little mining village of Grenay on the south to the La Bassée Canal on the north. The Vermelles-Hulluch Road was to be the dividing line between the two Corps, the 4th Corps delivering the right attack, the 1st Corps the left.

In view of the great length of line along which the British troops were operating it was necessary to keep a strong reserve in my own hand. The 11th Corps, consisting of the Guards, the 21st and the 24th Divisions, were detailed for this purpose.

This reserve was the more necessary owing to the fact that the 10th French Army had to postpone its attack until one o'clock in the day; and, further, that the Corps operating on the French left had to be directed in a more or less south-easterly direction, involving, in case of our success, a considerable gap in our line.

To ensure, however, the speedy and effective support to the 1st and 4th Corps in the case of their success, their 21st and 24th Divisions passed the night of the 24th-25th on the line Beuvry (to the east of Bethune)-Noeux les Mines. The Guards Division was in the neighbourhood of Lillers on the same night.

I also directed the General Officer Commanding Second Army to draw the 28th Division back to Bailleul and to hold it in readiness to meet unexpected eventualities.

The British Cavalry Corps, less 3rd Cavalry Division, under General Fanshawe, was posted in the neighbourhood of St. Pol and Bailleul les Pernes; and the Indian Cavalry Corps, under General Rimington, at Doullens; both in readiness to co-operate with the French Cavalry in exploiting any success which might be attained by the combined French and British Forces. Plans for effective co-operation were fully arranged between the Cavalry Commanders of both Armies.

The 3rd Cavalry Division, less one brigade, was assigned to the General Officer Commanding First Army as a reserve, and moved into the area of the 4th Corps on the 21st and 22nd September.

9. Opposite the front of the main line of attack the distance between the enemy's trenches and our own varied from about 100 to 500 yards.

The country over which the advance took place is open and overgrown with long grass and self-sown crops.

From the canal southward our trenches and those of the enemy ran, roughly, parallel up an almost imperceptible rise to the south-west.

From the Vermelles-Hulluch Road southward the advantage of height is on the enemy's side as far as the Bethune-Lens Road. There the two lines of trenches cross a spur in which the rise culminates, and thence the command lies on the side of the British trenches.

Due east of the intersection of spur and trenches, and a short mile away, stands Loos. Less than a mile further south-east is Hill 70, which is the summit of the gentle rise in the ground.

Other notable tactical points in our front were :—

"Fosse 8" (a thousand yards south of Auchy), which is a coal mine with a high and strongly defended slag heap.

"The Hohenzollern Redoubt."—A strong work thrust out nearly five hundred yards in front of the German lines and close to our own. It is connected with their front line by three communication trenches abutting into the defences of Fosse 8.

Cité St. Elie.—A strongly defended mining village lying fifteen hundred yards south of Haisnes.

"The Quarries."—Lying half way to the German trenches west of Cité St. Elie.

Hulluch.—A village strung out along a small stream, lying less than half a mile south-east of Cité St. Elie and 3,000 yards north-east of Loos.

Half a mile north of Hill 70 is "Puits 14 bis," another coal mine, possessing great possibilities for defence when taken in conjunction with a strong redoubt situated on the north-east side of Hill 70.

10. The attacks of the 1st and 4th Corps were delivered at 6-30 A.M. and were successful all along the line, except just south of the La Bassée Canal.

The enemy met the advance by wild infantry fire of slight intensity, but his artillery fire was accurate and caused considerable casualties.

The 47th Division on the right of the 4th Corps rapidly swung its left forward and occupied the southern outskirts of Loos and a big double slag heap opposite Grenay, known as the Double Crassier. Thence it pushed on, and, by taking possession of the cemetery, the enclosures and chalk pits south of Loos, succeeded in forming a strong defensive flank.

This London Territorial Division acquitted itself most creditably. It was skilfully led and the troops carried out their task with great energy and determination. They contributed largely to our success in this part of the field.

On the left of the 47th Division a Scottish Division of the New Armies (15th Division) assaulted Loos, Hill 70 and Fosse 14 bis.

The attack was admirably delivered, and in a little more than an hour parts of the division occupied Loos and its northern outskirts, Puits 14 bis and Hill 70, whilst some units had pushed on as far as Cité St. Auguste, a mile east of Hill 70.

The 15th Division carried out its advance with the greatest vigour, in spite of its left flank being exposed, owing to the 1st Division on its left having been checked.

About 1 P.M. the enemy brought up strong reserves, and the advanced portions of the division at Fosse 14 bis and on the far side of Hill 70 were driven in. We had, however, secured the very substantial gain of Loos and the western portion of Hill 70.

11. At 9-30 A.M. I placed the 21st and 24th Divisions at the disposal of the General Officer Commanding First Army, who at once ordered the General Officer commanding the 11th Corps to move them up in support of the attacking troops.

Between 11 A.M. and 12 noon the central brigades of these divisions filed past me at Bethune and Noeux les Mines respectively. At 11-30 A.M. the heads of both divisions were within three miles of our original trench line.

As the success of the 47th Division on the right of the 4th Corps caused me less apprehension of a gap in our line near that point, I ordered the Guards Division up to Noeux les Mines, and the 28th Division to move in a southerly direction from Bailleul.

12. The 1st Division, attacking on the left of the 15th, was unable at first to make any headway with its right brigade.

The brigade on its left (the 1st) was, however, able to get forward and penetrated into the outskirts of the village of Hulluch, capturing some gun positions on the way.

The determined advance of this brigade, with its right flank dangerously exposed, was most praiseworthy, and, combined with the action of divisional reserves, was instrumental in causing the surrender of a German detachment some 500 strong which was holding up the advance of the right brigade in the front system of trenches.

The inability of the right of this division to get forward had, however, caused sufficient delay to enable the enemy to collect local reserves behind the strong second line.

The arrangements, the planning and execution of the attack, and the conduct of the troops of the 4th Corps were most efficient and praiseworthy.

13. In the attack of the 1st Corps the 7th Division was directed on the Quarries. The 9th Division was to capture the Hohenzollern Redoubt and then to push on to Fosse 8.

The assault of the 7th Division succeeded at once, and in a very short time they had reached the western edge of the Quarries, Cité St. Elie and even the village of Haisnes, the tendency of the action having been to draw the troops northward.

On the right of the 9th Division the 26th Brigade secured Fosse 8 after heavy fighting and the 28th Brigade captured the front line of the German trenches east of Vermelles railway. At the latter point the fighting was extremely severe; and this brigade, suffering considerable losses, was driven back to its own trenches.

At nightfall, after a heavy day's fighting and numerous German counter-attacks, the line was, roughly, as follows:—

From the Double Crassier, south of Loos, by the western part of Hill 70, to the western exit of Hulluch; thence by the Quarries and western end of Cité St. Elie, east of Fosse 8, back to our original line.

Throughout the length of the line heavy fighting was in progress, and our hold on Fosse 8, backed as it is by the strong defences and guns of Auchy was distinctly precarious.

Heavy rain fell throughout the day, which was very detrimental to efficient observation of fire and reconnaissance by aircraft.

In the course of the night 25th-26th September the enemy delivered a series of heavy counter-attacks along most of our new front. The majority of these were repulsed with heavy loss; but in parts of the line, notably near the Quarries, our troops were driven back a certain distance.

At 6 P.M. the Guards Division arrived at Noeux les Mines, and on the morning of the 26th I placed them at the disposal of the General Officer commanding First Army.

14. The situation at the Quarries, described above, was readjusted by an attack of the 7th Division on the afternoon of September 26th: and on that evening very heavy attacks delivered by the enemy were repulsed with severe loss.

On the 4th Corps front attacks on Hulluch and on the redoubt on the east side of Hill 70 were put in operation, but were anticipated by the enemy organising a very strong offensive from that direction. These attacks drove in the advanced troops of the 21st and 24th Divisions, which were then moving forward to attack.

Reports regarding this portion of the action are very conflicting, and it is not possible to form an entirely just appreciation of what occurred in this part of the field.

At nightfall there was no change up to Hill 70, except for a small gain of ground south of Loos. From Hill 70 the line bent sharply back to the north-west as far as Loos-La Bassée Road, which it followed for a thousand yards, bearing thence north-eastward to near the west end of Hulluch. Thence northward it was the same as it had been on the previous night.

The night of September 26th-27th was as disturbed as the previous night, for many further counter-attacks were made and constant pressure was maintained by the enemy.

A dismounted cavalry brigade was thrown into Loos to form a garrison.

On this day I placed the 28th Division at the disposal of the General Officer commanding First Army.

I regret to say that Major-General Sir Thompson Capper, K.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O., commanding 7th Division, was severely wounded on the 26th, and died on the morning of the 27th. He was a most distinguished and capable leader, and his loss will be severely felt.

15. Soon after dawn on the 27th it became apparent that the brigade holding Fosse 8 was unable to maintain its position, and eventually it was slowly forced back until at length our front at this point coincided with the eastern portion of the Hohenzollern Redoubt

I regret to say that during this operation Major-General G. H. Thesiger, C.B., C.M.G., A.D.C., commanding the 9th Division, was killed whilst most gallantly endeavouring to secure the ground which had been won.

In the afternoon of this day the Guards Division, which had taken over part of the line to the north of the 4th Corps, almost restored our former line, bringing it up parallel to and slightly west of the Lens-La Bassée Road.

This Division made a very brilliant and successful attack on Hill 70 in the afternoon. They drove the Germans off the top of the hill, but could not take the redoubt, which is on the north-east slopes below the crest. They also took the Chalk Pit which lies north of Puits 14, and all the adjacent woods, but were unable to maintain themselves in the Puits itself, which was most effectively commanded by well-posted machine-guns.

The 47th Division on the right of the Guards captured a wood further to the south and repulsed a severe hostile counter attack.

The 28th was passed in consolidating the ground gained and in making a certain number of internal moves of divisions, in order to give the troops rest and to enable those units whose casualties had been heavy to refill their ranks with reinforcements.

The 47th Division made a little more ground to the south, capturing one field gun and a few machine-guns.

On the evening of this day the situation remained practically unchanged.

16. The line occupied by the troops of the First Army south of the canal became now very much extended by the salient with which it indented the enemy's line.

The French 10th Army had been very heavily opposed, and I considered that the advance they were able to make did not afford sufficient protection to my right flank.

On representing this to General Joffre he was kind enough to ask the commander of the northern group of French Armies to render me assistance.

General Foch met these demands in the same friendly spirit which he has always displayed throughout the course of the whole campaign, and expressed his readiness to give me all the support he could.

On the morning of the 28th we discussed the situation, and the General agreed to send the 9th French Corps to take over the ground occupied by us extending from the French left up to and including that portion of Hill 70 which we were holding, and also the village of Loos.

This relief was commenced on the 30th September and completed on the two following nights.

17. During the 29th and 30th September and the first day of October fighting was almost continuous along the northern part of the new line, particularly about the Hohenzollern Redoubt and neighbouring trenches, to which the enemy evidently attached great value. His attacks, however, invariably broke down with very heavy loss under the accurate fire of our infantry and artillery.

The Germans succeeded in gaining some ground in and about the Hohenzollern Redoubt, but they paid heavily for it in the losses they suffered.

Our troops all along the front were busily engaged in consolidating and strengthening the ground won, and the efficient and thorough manner in which this work was carried out reflects the greatest credit upon all ranks. Every precaution was made to deal with the counter-attack which was inevitable.

During these operations the weather has been most unfavourable, and the troops have had to fight in rain and mud and often in darkness. Even these adverse circumstances have in no way affected the magnificent spirit continually displayed alike by officers and men. In the Casualty Clearing and Dressing Stations, of which I visited a great number during the course of the action, I found nothing but the most cheery optimism among the wounded

I have to deplore the loss of a third most valuable and distinguished General of Division during these operations.

On the afternoon of 2nd October Major-General F. D. V. Wing, C.B., Commanding the 12th Division, was killed.

18. On the afternoon of 8th October our expectations in regard to a counter-attack were fulfilled. The enemy directed a violent and intense attack all along the line from Fosse 8 on the north to the right of the French 9th Corps on the south. The attack was delivered by some twenty-eight battalions in first line, with larger forces in support, and was prepared by a very heavy bombardment from all parts of the enemy's front.

At all parts of the line except two the Germans were repulsed with tremendous loss, and it is computed on reliable authority that they left some eight to nine thousand dead lying on the battlefield in front of the British and French trenches.

On the right the attack succeeded in making a small and unimportant lodgment on the Double Crassier held by the French; whilst on the left the trench held by troops of the Guards Division to the north-east of the Hohenzollern Redoubt was temporarily captured. The latter was, however, speedily retaken, and at midnight on the 9th October the line held by the First Army was identically the same as that held before the enemy's attack started.

The main enemy attacks on the front held by our troops had been against the 1st Division in the neighbourhood of the Chalk Pit and the Guards Division in the neighbourhood of the Hohenzollern Redoubt. Both attacks were repulsed, and the enemy lost heavily from machine-gun and artillery fire.

From subsequent information it transpired that the German attack was made by about twelve battalions against the line Loos-Chalk Pit, and that a subsidiary attack by six to eight battalions was made from the direction of the Hohenzollern Redoubt against the Guards Division.

Some eight or ten German battalions were directed against the French 9th Corps.

19. The position assaulted and carried with so much brilliancy and dash by the 1st and 4th Corps on 25th September was an exceptionally strong one. It extended along a distance of some 6,500 yards, consisted of a double line, which included works of considerable strength, and was a network of trenches and bomb-proof shelters. Some of the dug-outs and shelters formed veritable caves thirty feet below the ground, with almost impenetrable head cover. The enemy had expended months of labour upon perfecting these defences.

The total number of prisoners captured during these operations amounted to 57 officers and 3,000 other ranks. Material which fell into our hands included 26 field-guns, 40 machine-guns and 3 minenwerfer.

I deeply regret the heavy casualties which were incurred in this battle, but in view of the great strength of the position, the stubborn defence of the enemy and the powerful artillery by which he was supported, I do not think they were excessive. I am happy to be able to add that the proportion of slightly wounded is relatively very large indeed.

20. Since the date of my last despatch the Army has received strong reinforcements, and every reinforcement has had its quota of Field Artillery. In addition, numerous batteries of heavy guns and howitzers have been added to the strength of the heavy artillery. The arrival of these reinforcements in the field has tested the capacity of the Artillery as a whole to expand to meet the requirements of the Army, and to maintain the high level of efficiency that has characterised this arm throughout the campaign. Our enemy may have hoped, not perhaps without reason, that it would be impossible for us, starting from such small beginnings, to build up an efficient Artillery to provide for the very large expansion of the Army. If he entertained such hopes, he has now good reason to know that they have not been justified by the result.

The efficiency of the Artillery of the New Armies has exceeded all expectations, and during the period under review excellent services have been rendered by the Territorial Artillery.

The necessity to denude the old batteries of Regular Horse and Field Artillery of officers and non-commissioned officers, in order to provide for the expansion referred to, has not in any way impaired their efficiency, and they continue to set an example to all by their high standard and devotion to duty.

I must give a special word of praise to the officers and rank and file of the Royal Garrison Artillery for the admirable way in which they have accustomed themselves to the conditions of active service in the field, to which for the most part they were unaccustomed, and for the manner in which they have applied their general knowledge of gunnery to the special problems arising in trench warfare. The excellence of their training and the accuracy of their shooting have, I feel sure, made a marked impression on the enemy.

21. The work of the Artillery during the daily life in the trenches calls for increasing vigilance and the maintenance of an intricate system of communications in a thorough state of efficiency, in order that the guns may be ever ready to render assistance to the Infantry when necessity arises. A high standard of initiative is also required in order to maintain the moral ascendancy over the enemy, by impeding his working parties, destroying his works and keeping his artillery fire under control.

To the many calls upon them the artillery has responded in a manner that is altogether admirable.

In the severe offensive actions that have taken place it is not too much to say that the first element of success has been the artillery preparation of the attack. Only when this preparation has been thorough have our attacks succeeded. It is impossible to convey in a despatch an adequate impression of the amount of care and labour involved in the minute and exact preparations that are the necessary preliminaries of a bombardment preparatory to an attack in a modern battle.

The immense number of guns that it is necessary to concentrate, the amount of ammunition to be supplied to them, and the diversity of the tasks to be carried out, demand a very high order of skill in organization and technical professional knowledge.

22. The successful attacks at Hooge on 9th August and of the First Army on 25th September show that our Artillery officers possess the necessary talents and the rank and file the necessary skill and endurance to ensure success in operations of this character.

Moreover, the repulse of the enemy's attack on 8th October in the neighbourhood of Loos and Hulluch with such heavy losses shows the capacity of the Artillery to concentrate its fire promptly and effectively at a moment's notice for the defence of the front.

I cannot close these remarks on the Artillery without expressing my admiration for the work of the observing officers and the men who work with them. Carrying out their duties as they do, in close proximity to the front line in observing stations that are the special mark of the enemy's guns, they are constantly exposed to fire, and are compelled to carry on their work, involving the use of delicate instruments and the making of nice calculations, in circumstances of the greatest difficulty and danger. That they have never failed in their duties, and that they have suffered very heavy casualties in performing them, are to their lasting credit and honour.

The work of the Artillery in co-operation with the Royal Flying Corps continues to make most satisfactory progress, and has been most highly creditable to all concerned.

The new weapons that have been placed in the field during the period under review have more than fulfilled expectations and the enemy must be well aware of their accuracy and general efficiency.

23. I have on previous occasions called your Lordship's attention to the admirable work of the Corps of the Royal Engineers.

This work covers a very wide field, demanding a high standard of technical knowledge and skill, as well as unflagging energy; and throughout the supreme test of war these qualities have never been found wanting, thus reflecting the greatest credit on the organisation of the Corps as a whole, and on the training of the officers and men individually.

The spirit which is imbued in all ranks from the base ports to the front trenches and beyond is the same.

No matter where or how the personnel of the Corps has been employed, devotion to duty and energy have been ever present.

In this despatch I wish particularly to draw attention to the work of the Field Units and Army Troops Companies, which must almost invariably be performed under the most trying circumstances by night as well as by day. Demanding qualities of whole-hearted courage and self-sacrifice, combined with sound judgment and instant action, the work of officers, non-commissioned officers and men has been beyond all praise.

The necessity for skilled labour at the front has been so continuous that Royal Engineer units have frequently been forced to forego those periods of rest which at times it has been possible to grant to other troops; but, in spite of this, they have responded loyally to every call on their services.

Notwithstanding the heavy casualties sustained by all ranks, the esprit de corps of the Royal Engineers is such that the new material is at once animated by the same ideals, and the same devotion to duty is maintained.

24. I desire to call your Lordship's attention to the splendid work carried out by the Tunnelling Companies. These companies, officered largely by mining engineers, and manned by professional miners, have devoted themselves whole-heartedly to the dangerous work of offensive and defensive mining, a task ever accompanied by great and unseen dangers.

It is impossible within the limits of a despatch to give any just idea of the work of these units, but it will be found, when their history comes to be written, that it will present a story of danger, of heroism, and of difficulties surmounted, worthy of the best traditions of the Royal Engineers, under whose general direction their work is carried out.

25. Owing to the repeated use by the enemy of asphyxiating gases in their attacks on our positions, I have been compelled to resort to similar methods; and a detachment was organized for this purpose which took part in the operations commencing on the 25th September for the first time.

Although the enemy was known to have been prepared for such reprisals, our gas attack met with marked success, and produced a demoralising effect in some of the opposing units, of which ample evidence was forthcoming in the captured trenches.

The men who undertook this work carried out their unfamiliar duties during a heavy bombardment with conspicuous gallantry and coolness; and I feel confident in their ability to more than hold their own should the enemy again resort to this method of warfare.

26. I would again call your Lordship's attention to the work of the Royal Flying Corps.

Throughout the summer notwithstanding much unfavourable weather, the work of co-operating with the Artillery, photographing the positions of the enemy, bombing their communications and reconnoitring far over hostile territory has gone on unceasingly.

The volume of work performed steadily increases; the amount of flying has been more than doubled during this period. There have been more than 240 combats in the air, and in nearly every case our pilots have had to seek the enemy behind his own lines, where he is assisted by the fire of his movable anti-aircraft guns; and in spite of this they have succeeded in bringing down four of the German machines behind our trenches and at least twelve in the enemy's lines, and many more have been seen to dive to earth in a damaged condition or to have retired from the fight. On one occasion an officer of the Royal Flying Corps engaged four enemy machines and drove them off, proceeding on his reconnaissance. On another occasion two officers engaged six hostile machines and disabled at least one of them.

Artillery observation and photography are two of the most trying tasks the Royal Flying Corps is called upon to perform, as our airmen must remain for long periods within easy range of the enemy's anti-aircraft guns.

The work of observation for the guns from aeroplanes has now become an important factor in artillery fire, and the personnel of the two arms work in the closest co-operation.

As evidence of the dangers our flying officers are called upon to face I may state that on one occasion a machine was hit in no fewer than 300 places soon after crossing the enemy's lines, and yet the officer successfully carried out his mission.

The Royal Flying Corps has on several occasions carried out a continuous bombing of the enemy's communications, descending to 500 feet and under in order to hit moving trains on the railway. This has in some cases been kept up day after day; and during the operations at the end of September, in the space of five days, nearly six tons of explosives were dropped on moving trains and are known to have practically wrecked five, some containing troops, and to have damaged the main railway line in many different places.

For the valuable work carried out by the Royal Flying Corps I am greatly indebted to their commander, Brigadier-General H. M. Trenchard, C. B., D.S.O., A.D.C.

27. Throughout the campaign the financial requirements of the Army have been successfully met by the Army Pay Department. The troops have been paid, and all claims against the Army discharged, with unbroken regularity, and the difficulties inseparable from a foreign banking system and a strange currency have been overcome.

The work of the department has been greatly assisted by the Bank of France, the administration of which has spared no effort to help.

28. While the circumstances of this campaign have brought no exceptional strain on horses, great credit is due to all concerned for the excellent arrangements in the Remount Depôts and Veterinary Hospitals.

29. I am pleased to be able once more to report very favourably on the divisions of the New Armies which have arrived in this country since the date of my last report.

It is evident that great trouble and much hard work have been expended on these units during their training at home, and it is found that they have received such sound teaching that a short period of instruction in trench life under fire soon enables them to take their places with credit beside their acclimatised comrades of the older formation.

30. The Territorial Force units have continued to merit the favourable remarks I have made on them in previous despatches, and have taken a prominent part in many of the active operations in which the Army has been engaged.

31. A new Division has been sent from Canada and has joined the Army in the field. The material of which it is composed is excellent; and this Division will, I am convinced, acquit itself as well in face of the enemy as the 1st Canadian Division has always done.

32. During the period under report I have been very glad once more to receive the Prime Minister at my Headquarters, as well as the Secretary of State for War.

The Prime Minister of Canada and the Minister of Militia and Defence of Canada also came to France for a few days and visited the troops of the Canadian Contingent.

The Chief Rabbi paid a short visit to the front and interested himself in the members of the large Jewish community now serving with the Army in the Field.

33. I cannot conclude the account of these operations without expressing the deep admiration felt by all ranks of the Army under my command for the splendid part taken by our French Allies in the battle which opened on 25th September. Fortified positions of immense strength, upon which months of skill and labour had been expended, and which extended for many miles, were stormed and captured by our French comrades with a bravery and determination which went far to instil hope and spirit into the Allied Forces.

The large captures of men and material which fell into their hands testified to the completeness of their victory.

The close co-operation between the two Armies of the Allied Powers, which has been so marked a feature throughout the whole campaign, has been as prominent as ever in the work of the last three weeks.

I have already referred to the cordial and willing help rendered by General Foch in the support of the 9th French Corps, and I have also once again to express my deep indebtedness to General d'Urbal commanding the 10th French Army, operating on my right: and to General Hely d'Oissel, commanding the French Forces in the North.

34. The part taken by the troops of His Majsety the King of the Belgians was very effective in holding the enemy in front of them to his positions.

35. I have many names to bring to your Lordship's notice for valuable, gallant and distinguished service during the period under review, and these will form the subject of a separate report at an early date.

I have the honour to be,

Your Lordship's most obedient Servant,

J. D. P. FRENCH,

Field-Marshal, Commanding-in-Chief,
The British Army in France.

REMARKS.

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the borrowing body has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.	Apart from the surplus balance of Rs. 2,211, there will be an income derivable from the tank amounting to Rs. 299. The two instalments payable during a year on account of the new loan applied for would amount to Rs. 365. So there will be very little to pay from the general revenue.
(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the local body.	There was a revision of assessment during 1914-15, which came into effect from 1915-16, resulting in an increase of the income. But, as explained above, very little assistance will be required from the general revenue to pay off the debt.
